Ignite the Fire Within! LEADERSHIP FROM THE HEART

The World is Changing... are you growing with it?

The world moves at an immeasurable speed. What works today will be obsolete tomorrow. No one can afford to waste time or resources. Individuals must continually push themselves; our communities must grow and raise their standards, and be at their absolute best in every aspect of their lives. First Nation people have an amazing opportunity today to achieve their goals and end the vicious cycle of violence, substance abuse, and unemployment.

Our youth and young adults are the leaders of tomorrow and this is the course that will teach them what it means to be a leader and how to live their best life. Participants will experience a challenging and fun course that will teach them confidence, public speaking, communication, perseverance, and career skills that will help them achieve in education and a future career. Our First Nation people deserve the best... and Leadership from the Heart is designed to be the best success training in Native Country.

When you become better...Everything in your life becomes better! Life should be about what you can do, not what you cannot do. In Leadership from the Heart you will realize the power of leading yourself, and when you lead yourself others will follow. This workshop is highly experiential. You will not learn "how to" be a strong and confident leader, you will practice being one.

"The transformational learning process you have integrated into the two-day Leadership from the Heart training is one of the best that I have observed, experienced, or developed in my 47 years of leadership and leader development."

Thank you so much for this amazing opportunity. You are such an inspiration to American Indians like me. You helped give me hope when I can't find my own. You showed me as long as you believe, you WILL succeed! Your ripples have hit reservations and are starting to make changes. How do I know? Because I am living proof.

- Sharlee LaBarge. (Ojibwa)

I learned how strong I can be... how loud my voice can be, that I can be a true leader if I believe in myself. I learned to always support my team, and it's important to cheer, because it makes your teammates feel a lot better and you give them more courage. Leadership from the Heart is a extremely well facilitated course and provides knowledge and experiences that enhances a student's education. It is fantastic to see a mission that is focusing on helping Native students attend experiences like Leadership from the Heart because it develops the skills and creates the attitude that will serve them for the rest of their life.
